

Flaneuse wants Bitter Coffee

Sketched above is my (messy) room. I am not there.

That is a Close Up of the mug and the jar. On a day like this a black shot pulls me out of momentary death.

My job is to follow my routine every day. I take an 'auto' to the South City Mall.

Its an auto-erotic drive to the land of high consumption.

A still from 'Spring in the Colony' and I am there.
